【参考范文】

Dear Peter,

I am delighted to hear that you are going to participate in the Chinese poetry recitation contest to be held in our school on New Year's Day. I am writing to offer some advice, which I hope may be of great help to you.

Considering that the coming contest is related to New Year, you'd better choose some Chinese poetry with the theme of bidding farewell to the old year and welcoming the new year. When it comes to recitation techniques, you are supposed to speak standard Mandarin and pay attention to using proper pronunciation, stress, intonation and speed. In addition, practice makes perfect. Therefore, you can't practice too many times in advance. By the way, I have collected some classic poems that feature blessings for the new year and attached them to the mail.

If there is any problem, don't hesitate to contact me. Hope you can take my advice into consideration and look forward to your reply.

Yours,
Li Hua

Text 1

W: Do you have time to go for a walk now?

M: Unfortunately not. I have to finish this report and study for the French exam, but maybe later on? I'm sick and tired of sitting at my desk! Some fresh air would probably do me good.

Text 2

M: So, this is the new phone? Would you recommend it?

W: Well, I really like the camera. But the sound quality is quite poor, especially when I call people.

M: Well, you prefer texting anyway!

Text 3

W: Did you enjoy the art exhibition?

M: Yes, though I had to wait in line for over an hour! I got so bored. I almost left. But I'm glad I didn't.

It gave me so many exciting new ideas.

W: Me too. Honestly, I'd go again, if I could afford it!

Text 4

M: Yes, I'm planning two weeks at a lake house over the summer. Then, I have another week holiday left for this year, but I'm not sure what I'll do with it!

M: Thanks, miss. No rush!

Text 6

M: Can I help you?

W: Yes, well, I bought this tie last week for my husband's birthday. Unfortunately, he doesn't like it. Could I change it for something else, like a shirt or even a hat?

M: Certainly, madam, provided that you have the receipt.

W: Yes, here it is.

M: Thank you. Um... this tie looks like it has been worn. I'm afraid I can't change it for you.

W: Oh, that's a pity.

Text 7

M: Do you want to go to the movies tonight?

W: I can't. My singing group meets on Wednesdays.

M: Oh, I've forgotten you are doing that! Are you enjoying it?

W: I love it! The people are really friendly. And we practice in a huge school gym, which makes us sound really good!

M: Ha-ha! What kind of songs do you sing?

W: We usually focus on pop and country songs, but right now, we're practicing songs for Christmas.

M: Cool! Are you going to perform them somewhere?

W: Yes, we're planning a little concert on Friday, 17th December, at the town hall.

M: Well, great! Where can I get tickets?

W: On the group's website. I'll send you the address.

M: Great, thanks!

W: What about Thursday night for the movies? Are you free?

M: Yes, I think so.

Text 8

W: Why do you ask me to your clothing studio?

M: Look, my new trousers.

W: Wow, great! They look like something from an old Hollywood movie!

M: Thanks!

W: I didn't know you could make clothes!

M: Yeah, my grandfather taught me, as a kid. He was a very successful designer. People came from miles around to buy his business suits.

W: Wow!

M: He wanted my father to join the family business, but my father always had his heart set on becoming a news reporter, so...

W: Well, it's lovely that your grandfather could share it with you.

M: Yeah, I really enjoy it. And it's useful when I want something to wear that I can't find in the shops.

W: Do you ever make clothes for anyone else?

M: I've made a few dresses for my sister over the years.

W: That's so cool. I'd love to learn to make clothes.

W: That would be great! Would I need to buy a machine?

Text 9

W: Here in Turkey, what do children do when they lose a tooth?

M: Why do you ask?

W: My cousin moved to France a few years ago, and her daughter just lost her first tooth. It made me wonder about different customs.

M: Well, most parents here bury their kids' teeth.

W: Interesting!

M: We believe it can influence a child's future jobs! For example, if you bury the teeth near a hospital, the child will become a doctor... If near a school, the child will be a teacher, and so on...

W: Where did you bury your teeth?

M: On a sports field. I wanted to be a famous soccer player!

W: Ha-ha! How funny!

M: So, what do they do in France?

W: They put the teeth on the bed. Children believe that a little mouse comes to take the tooth away, and leaves money or candy in return when they're asleep. I thought that was so cute!

M: And what do you do in Japan?

W: We throw our teeth away!

M: Really?

W: Yes, if it's a top tooth, we throw it on the ground. If it's a bottom tooth, we throw it in the air. A good, straight throw is meant to make your new teeth straight and strong.

M: Cool! That sounds fun!

Text 10

For today's class, we are discussing the rise of e-business and the growth of online shopping. Now as you all know, companies such as Amazon and Alibaba have made huge profits year on year, but why? What are the benefits of online shopping compared to shopping in real life? The main benefit is the price. Typically, you can get things cheaper online compared to in-store shopping. Why? Well, the online companies mainly pay for a warehouse to store their products. Their staff costs are much lower. The in-store model has to spend a lot on staff salaries and rent for the shops. The two models are completely different. While, what are some of the disadvantages of online shopping? My main complaint for online shopping is when something goes wrong, for example, the wrong product or a damaged product. Usually you have to send the product back and wait for getting your money back. It can be terribly slow. If I need something in a hurry to use immediately, for instance, clothes, I would still prefer in-store shopping. Also you can see the quality yourself. Often when we buy something online, we do it blindly and simply rely on other people's reviews. So my question to you students is, what do you prefer and why? I'm looking forward to your answers.
