答案解析

听力原文

Text 1

W: Hey, Rex, how are you at cooking? Are you any good?

M: Not really if I'm honest.

Text 2

W: I went to a really cool museum with my class yesterday.

M: Really? You mean the Nature Museum?

W: No, it was the Science Museum, and there was a show of robots. We were supposed to go to the Art Museum, but that got canceled so we did this instead.

Text 3

W: Cut. Start from the top! Leo, please, let's try that line again with more enthusiasm.

M: I'm trying. It's getting late, and we've been shooting this scene for hours.

W: Your character is falling in love. Show us some emotion! Cameramen, get ready to shoot!

Text 4

W: John, can you do me a favor in the kitchen?

M: At your service.

W: I would like half of the chicken cut into slices, and the other half kept. Remember to cut off the fat. Your father doesn't like the taste.

Text 5

M: Laura, you've just been selected to play chess for the national team. Many congratulations!

Everyone says that you're a natural for chess. Do you think so?

W: Well, I've always believed that practice makes perfect. I play chess with my father every day.

Text 6

M: What's the matter? Are you having trouble?

W: Yes. I'm supposed to have three new ideas for tomorrow's morning meeting. But now I'm stuck. I've been thinking for an hour—nothing! I have to stay up all night.

M: Perhaps you need a different approach. I was reading something the other day about Einstein and his unique approach to thinking.

W: I'm an editor at a gardening magazine, not a scientist. But I think Einstein's creative way of thinking will help me get a good idea, thank you.

Text 7

M: Sophia, what do you want to do in the future?

W: Actually, I've had a dream of becoming a doctor since childhood. I am from a village. People suffer a lot because there is a lack of good doctors. So I want to work for them. As you know, I am good at biology and I hope I will have a good result in the final.

M: That's a good reason.

W: Yeah, my parents are encouraging me to become a doctor and they are going to help as much as they can. What is your plan?

M: I have a plan to study architecture and work in the construction industry one day. I'm fond of design and drawing.

W: If you love something, just go for it.

Text 8

W: How on earth did you fall out of the window?

M: I was sitting with my mother in the living room playing with my toys. My sister started crying in the bedroom, and my mom went to take care of her. So I pushed a chair near a window and climbed on top to have a look outside. And while I was standing by the window, my biscuit fell out of my mouth. I tried to catch it, but I lost my balance and fell.

W: Oh, my goodness! Do you remember the fall?

M: It was all very quick, but I remember lying on the ground with people all around me. And then I saw my mom. She was hopeless, because she thought my head had been hurt, but all I had was a broken leg. I was very lucky.

W: Surely you're a lucky boy. Be more careful next time.

Text 9

W: Can I help you?

M: Yes, my son and daughter bought this pen here for my wife's birthday, but it doesn't work, so I'd like to exchange it.

W: Let me see. Was it dropped or anything?

M: No, but you can see that the point is bent a little bit.

W: Yes, it is, isn't it? We'd be happy to exchange it for you. But I'm afraid we don't have another purple one. We only have this pen in black or yellow now.

M: My wife doesn't really care for either of those colors.

W: We have one with a red leather cover. That's three dollars more.

M: The children worked hard to save up the eleven dollars for this one. They would probably be upset if I paid for part of their present.

W: If you want, we can order another pen just like this one.

M: That sounds like a good idea. Would you please go ahead and do that?

W: We'd be very happy to. It will take a week or ten days. We'll call you when it comes in.

M: Thank you very much.
